EXAMINER'S REVIEW OF PROVINCIAL MARKETS

Thursday, August 21.

Cattle—Beef—Calgary market slower this week, but brightened up yesterday on better offerings; choice heavy steers, $15.00 to $15.50; medium, $14.50 to $15.00; light steers, $13.50 to $14.00; and a top of $15.50 on some choice heavy stuff; good, $14.25 to $14.75; medium, $13.50 to $14.00; common down to $12.50. Choice heifers, $14 to $14.25; good, $13.25 to $14. Choice fat cows, $12 to $12.25; good, $11.25 to $11.50; medium, $10.25 to $10.75; common, $10.00 to $10.25; canners, $9.00 to $10.25. Calves, choice, $23.75 to $24.00; common, $22 to $23.50. Bulls, choice, $15.00 to $15.75; others down to $12.25. Feeders, Stockers—Demand not active and good steers going at $3.50, with stocker steers $2.25 to $3.25. Stocker heifers, $2 to $2.75; stocker cows, $1.25 to $2.50.

Beef—Edmonton yards had heavier receipts, with many good cattle from the northern districts, and prices fairly steady, with choice heavy and light steers, $14.50 to $15; and tops up to $15.50; good steers, $14.25 to $14.50; medium, $13.50 to $14; common, $12.50 to $13; canners, $11 to $12.50. Choice bulls, $15.00 to $15.75; common, $11 to $15.00. Choice veal calves, $4 to $4.25; common, $3 to $4. Feeders—Stockers—Choice steers are keeping up in value, to around $4, but the common and plain steers are hard to move at $2 to $2.25; stocker heifers, $1.75 to $2.50; stocker cows, $1.25 to $2.

Hogs—Prices kept advancing and the Calgary quotations have been working up a few sales yesterday at $9.50 to $9.80, thick smooth, off cars; bacon

10 percent premium; today's sales, $9.60.

Edmonton market steadily gained up to $9.40, but Wednesday's receipts bled over $9.25 for the thick smooths, off cars, and commission men refused to sell and for better price; bacon 10 percent, over thick smooth.

Sheep—Receipts still light at Calgary and market hard to quote; lambs will make up to $12; yearlings up to $10 and fat ewes up to $7.50.

More sheep received at Edmonton and some through on coast bringing lambs, $11 to $12; yearlings, $8 to $9; ewes, $4 to $6.50.

Grain—Wild swings have been recorded in the wheat market during the week and carrying with it the coarse grains to some extent. This fluctuation is likely to continue until there is some volume to our movement. If wheat was worth anything like the prices that were paid a short time ago, there is no reason why it should not make a recovery, for there has not been sufficient improvement in the western crop, or any other crop, to warrant the recent drop. An improvement in the European situation should also help the market.

Butter—Cream—Cheese—Butterfat—Alberta prices advanced to 31c at centralizers and 29c at country creameries, basic specialties, and other grades up in proportion. Receipts keeping up well.

Cheese—No change on prints and carmelots; car lots, basic specialties, firm at 32c to 32.50. Dairy Butter—Demand good at stores and markets for fancy grade table, up to 25c; dealers buying in bulk No. 1 at 18c. Cheese—Prices unchanged, but market is hard.

Eggs—No changes are reported in Calgary prices, still at 25c for extras, but the market is considerable firmer and more advance. Poultry—Business quiet and offerings light, and at present ent prices no encouragement to shippers. Fowl, 9c to 11c; chickens, 16c live weight.

Poultry—Crop making good progress in all parts of province, where it was not eliminated earlier in the season. New crop bringing $1.75 to $2 per cwt. at Calgary.

Hides—Not much business moving, and deliveries are somewhat delayed owing to difficulty of getting weather cured for hulling. Alfalfa quoted at Lethbridge at 55c and cut skins 8c. Packers showing better buying indications.

Furs—Not much change reported in market on western furs at Winnipeg. Beaver, but heavy, showing an advance to range from $7.50 for small to $20 on large.

Mrs. Harry B. Keeley, wife of a great war veteran, who is present in British Columbia, hanged herself in the woods of her farm ten miles northwest of Cranston, Alta. Her body was found by her two little boys aged 11 and 8 years.

In connection with the trouble in the Sudan, the British government has ordered the battalions of the Sudan to leave Zara, Dalmatia, for Alexandria. The light cruiser Weymouth and the ship Clematis are also on the way there.

A Marino ram was sold at Sydney, N.S.W. Wednesday, and fetched what is the record price in Australia for a sheep—£250. The valuable animal was sheared immediately after being bought and yielded a fleece weighing 32½ pounds.

A dispatch from Prince Rupert states that a forest fire has destroyed three square miles of the finest timber on the coast at Alice Arm. The blaze is under control now, but every available man has been fighting it for several days.

After being carried a mile by the current to the top of the Lachine Rapids, near Montreal, and being rescued from the water by a steam ferry tug, Mike Marquis, 67 year old Indian of Caughnawaga, died from exhaustion a half hour after he had been pulled from the water.

Caught in a separator belt while threshing at Ingersoll, Ont., Benjamin West, 60, was hurled against the machine and received a fractured skull from which he died.

A severe hailstorm over Manitoba, particularly over the Powassan district in the northwest, destroyed 80 percent of the crops on 10,000 acres of farm lands. At Carberry, between three and four thousand acres have been similarly hauled over, and another large loss was caused at Brookland.

Three pigs, two goats and 40 fowls were discovered at Montreal in the subterranean farm run by Giuseppe Marini, Neapolitan landlord of the east end, who stocked his cellar, and whose farming was revealed when fire broke out in his house.

The first load of wheat to be delivered this year in southern Alberta went to the Bayview elevator at Wednesday, from the Pick Two farms, which are threshing 35 bushels of wheat an acre from irrigated land.

J. E. BROWNLEE WILL NOT RESIGN

WOULD NOT EMBARRASS GREENFIELD GOVERNMENT

Moore Jau, August 22—Albertan farmers in reply to recent rumors that I am not resigning from the government.

J. E. Brownlee.

The above despatch set at rest the uncertainty about the immediate future of J. E. Brownlee, attorney-general for the province. Mr. Brownlee, a few days ago, was offered the post of manager of the selling part of the three western wheat pools. The salary involved was with the federal government, and was a great deal greater than that which the attorney-general receives.

Mr. Brownlee has come to the decision that he could not very well leave the government, which would be greatly embarrassed by his departure.

The announcement that Mr. Brownlee was considering retiring from the government created great consternation among the members and supporters of the government. He is the strong debater in the house and without him there would be serious danger of the government collapsing.

Asked if a general manager for the selling agency has been appointed, J. E. Brownlee said: "No general manager has been appointed. We have no one in view for the position at present."

Mr. Brownlee, attorney-general for Alberta, was appointed general counsel by J. E. Brownlee, who was appointed eastern sales agent, and Chester H. Elliott occupied similar position in Alberta. The latter was from which they will now be transferred.

Here and There

A remarkable report comes from Brockville, Ont. Harry Church, of that town, is the owner of a Holstein cow which has just given birth to three calves. All are alive and thriving.

On July 11, Her Majesty the Queen of Spain and her two daughters visited the Canadian Pacific Railway's pavilion at the British Empire Exhibition. Her Majesty evinced deep interest in all she saw and declared the exhibit to be "perfectly lovely."

Although the present season of ocean travel has reached the period usually associated with a falling off in the number of passengers, steamship companies report that little less than the total volume of passenger traffic in 1924 will probably be the largest of any year since the war.

World production of silver for the first half of 1924 is 117,550,000 ounces, as against 118,250,000 ounces in the first six months of 1923. Canada accounted for a production of 10,800,000 ounces in 1924, as against 10,500,000 ounces in the first half of 1923, being the third producer after Mexico and the United States, both of which showed a decline.

Saskatchewan's output of creamy butter in June amounted to 1,787,056 pounds, as compared with 1,746,000 pounds in June, 1923, an increase of 41,056 pounds or 2.4 per cent. From January to June, 1924, the province has produced 5,100,000 pounds of butter, as against 4,825,016 pounds in the same period in 1923, an increase of 274,984 pounds, or 5.7 per cent.

Among the tributes to the late Sir Edmund Osler, of the Canadian Pacific Railway's directorate, was one from C. R. Hosmer, for many years a fellow-director. It was addressed to Vice-President in Montreal, and read as follows: "He was the last living of the great men who organized our great railway."

The late Sir Edmund became a director of the Canadian Pacific Railway in 1885, the year of the completion of the transcontinental line.

A most interesting and attractive volume entitled "Here and There in Montreal" has just been published by the Munsion Book Co. of Toronto. The book is well illustrated with maps and pictures in color and brings out many noteworthy facts, such as that the city's total population is 500,000, that two-thirds of this number are French-Canadians and that Montreal is the second port of importance in North America. The author is Charles W. Stokes, Asst. Gen. Publicity Agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

The first annual Pow Wow of the Trail Riders, the Canadian Rockies held at Yoho Camp, was a great success. Over 230 internationally known writers, artists, etc., rode in to gather round the sacred fire in the Sun Dance Lodge. Charles D. Walcott, secretary of the Smithsonian Institution of Washington, D.C., honorary president of the Trail Riders, addressed the gathering, a poem written specially for the occasion by Bliss Carmen was read and Chiefs Walk-in-the-Road and Buffalo Child Long Lance performed an Indian dance.

CYCLONE HITS SOUTHERN SASK.

Saskatoon, Sask., August 21—A strait of cyclonic violence swept over the Melville and Kamsack districts last night, according to meagre reports received here. At Melville the Canadian National yards are said to have borne the brunt of the storm. Long strings of telegraph poles were blown down. A number of buildings were damaged at Kamsack, but no estimate of the loss has been received. No report of loss of life has been received.

ULSTER BUSINESS MEN AND THE GOVERNMENT

Sir James Craig's Acknowledgment

Sir James Craig, Bart., the Ulster Premier, in his presidential speech when making the acknowledgment of the assistance which had been rendered him by the business community of the Province, when he took on the duties of leadership, he said: "He felt that perhaps the business community of Ulster did not fully realize what that meant. His aim was to get the men who had built up Ulster and who were more anxious than anyone else to keep Ulster and to save Ulster, to come along with him and study for themselves some of the problems which confronted the Government. If they did that he felt sure that they would speedily recognize how necessary it was to them to play their part and pull together in the march towards peace and prosperity. The Premier stated, "that he had far beyond my expectations." The load of responsibility that had been placed on the shoulders of the business men responsible for the activities of the Ulster Association had been taken by the business men of the Ulster Association, when the Ulster Association was inaugurated a step was taken by the business men of the Ulster Association that had been of the greatest assistance to him personally and to the community as a whole. He hoped at the time that those who were occupied mainly with industries that had gone to make the Province what it was, would be able to spare a moment of time to take a more lively interest in the community as a whole. Day by day the Ulster Association had improved and extended its sphere of activities. It was because Ulster was in a position to adapt itself with wonderful elasticity to accomplishing something in other directions for the benefit of Ulster as a whole. It seemed to him that there was now a substantial growing area the real truth concerning Ulster wanted was for the truth to be made known to the public and across and see Ulster at work. That was their great aim in life, and it would be readily understood how much they appreciated the Press in England having now got to the stage that it wanted the truth and wanted to see for itself the true aspect of affairs in Ulster.

He did not hesitate to say that the Ulster Association had been one of the greatest successes that had been attained by any association in Ulster during his time. It was young, but it was growing. It was unknown two years ago, and now it was powerful because it was properly conducted and because the work it set out to do had been done with the spirit which made everything Ulsterer a success. They could look forward to its growing influence and the spread of the truth about Ulster and even further than had yet been accomplished.

He could judge by conversations with friends on the other side of the Channel, and he was sure Lord Londonderry, who was present with them, would bear an equal testimony to the fact that in the society in which he moved—and that was the society of business men and business men across the channel, that there had been a very great improvement during the last two years in the feelings towards the Province of Ulster.

The Marquis of Londonderry, who presided at the adoption of the report, said that the change of attitude in Great Britain with regard to Ulster was very noticeable indeed, and he attributed it almost entirely to the work which had been accomplished by the Ulster Association, and he was sure that the business men of the Province, when he took on the duties of leadership, he said: "He felt that perhaps the business community of Ulster did not fully realize what that meant. IMPRESSIONS MADE BY AN OVERSEAS VISIT

(H. P. Moore in Action (Ont.) Free Press)

Preconceived ideas as to distant countries, and the peoples resident therein, are very natural. A personal visit often proves the conceptions formed to be exceedingly at variance with fact, and the conditions as they really exist. This was true in the case of the members of the Canadian Weekly Editors' party who recently made the very enjoyable and instructive tour, and visited numerous cities and rural districts in the British Isles, France and Belgium. It was especially true of the writer of this article, who appreciates very fully the opportunities afforded for the formation of correct conclusions by personal contact with the places visited and the people with whom he was privileged to meet. The common idea that the people of the Old Land are distant in their demeanor, difficult to get acquainted with, and not warmly hospitable, especially in England, is entirely wrong. It was certainly at variance with what we experienced. Many cities, towns and rural districts were visited in the north, the south, the east and the west and everywhere the treatment received was most cordial, hospitable and friendly. This was true with the people everywhere we went. Titled ladies and gentlemen, business people, the common every-day folk—all whom we met were friendly and kind, and especially glad to make the acquaintance of fellow-citizens of the Empire from Canada. Everywhere there was a very manifest desire to know more about Canada and her people, and many were anxious to have information at first-hand respecting opportunities for reciprocal trade, and for the securing of homes in this new land.

There are several reasons which explain why Canada is today, perhaps more than ever before, in the public eye in Great Britain. The recollections of the splendid part Canada took in the great war are still vivid with the people, high and low—and every function at which Canadian visitors and British people came together inevitably intensified this fact. The British Empire Exhibition this year in London has taken many thousands of Canadian people to the old land, and their presence in such large numbers demonstrates the fact that Canada is alive to the mutual advantages of closer relationships with the home land. In addition to these elements, there is to be added the unusual coincidence that a larger number of organized groups of representative Canadians have been, and now are in the old country, than ever before in any one year. These include Canadian delegates to the Congress of Empire Chambers of Commerce; several hundred members of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association; our party of 171 editors of Canadian Weekly Newspapers from every province of the Dominion; a large number of Canadian lawyers, and an equally large group of Canadian teachers. These have all been gathering at first-hand impressions as to opportunities for trade, and general information, and their visits can hardly fail to be of real service both to Canada and to the Motherland.

In addressing our body of Canadian editors, at one of the numerous social functions tendered during the fortnight we spent in London, Lord Birkenhead in an after-dinner speech, said: "The problem which requires settlement today, which requires all the statercraft in your country and mine, is whether or not, in close and harmonious association, on terms of equal co-operation, we may preserve the British Empire—the greatest country in the world—by the changed political and sociological developments have ever achieved—a loosely associated free and equal brotherhood of great and self-respecting communities. If that association is to be preserved, first and foremost there must be absolute equality between each daughter state and the home country. There must be no question of our dictating policy to you, nor you dictating to us." These words have come back to us to Canada and will not easily be forgotten.

They demonstrate the fact that Imperialism today does not imply any desire on the part of the Old Country to interfere in any way with the complete autonomy of Canada, or of any of the other Dominions of the Empire. If our people here could be brought to understand what Imperialism really stands for today in the minds and hearts of the leaders in public matters over there, we would hear fewer objections to the word among our people on this side. At the public functions referred to, and in private conversation with thinking people interested in closer relations between Canada and the Motherland, apologies were freely made for the unfavorable bill respecting preferential trade with Canada, passed by the House of Commons in May. It seems very reasonable to conclude that this bill will be rescinded before many months.

It was gratifying indeed to hear the extremely favorable comments everywhere throughout the British Isles respecting Canada's fine showing at the Wembley Exhibition. Congratulations were expressed freely and unqualifiedly, concerning the exhibits so attractively made; the resources so intelligently presented; and the commanding character of the buildings in which they were housed. The result will undoubtedly be beneficial to Canada and advantageous to thousands of people now residing in congested centres of the old land. Business houses are forming new trade relations with this country; farmers, farm laborers, residents of towns and cities are attracted, and thousands are seeking information as to terms of settlement and emigration. An element of interest touching the future of the nation, the country boys and girls from schools and institutions, who are visiting the exhibition daily, under the supervision of teachers and guardians, are overheard as they view the attractive exhibits in the Canadian buildings, to exclaim in effect: "That's the country I'm going to as soon as I can get there; that's the land where I want to make my home." Canada never adopted a more effective immigration propaganda than when she decided upon and carried out her policy for representation on so generous and representative a scale as is now so commendably manifest at the British Empire Exhibition.

During our itinerary through the British Isles, the speakers of the Canadian Editors' party invariably made it plain that Canada will always welcome new settlers from the old land, who will come to our shores with the determination to become citizens with an interest in the development of the country. At the same time they each impressed the fact that to make immigration on a large scale mutually beneficial, the capitalists of the old land must turn their attention to the splendid opportunities for investment here, and by so doing create employment for those who come to positions in industrial establishments, and thus create enlarged markets for the products of those who come to engage in agricultural and gardening pursuits. Summing up the impressions of a two-months' study of conditions, opinions and possibilities it would seem to be fair to conclude that the next decade will see a largely-increased emigration of residents of the Old Country to Canada, and a largely-increased influx of British capital to Canadian industrial, mining and agricultural enterprises.

ROYAL AND ANCIENT SPORT

Red Deer Golf and Country Club Hold Successful Tournament

With three score entries, including beside local players, eleven from Innisfail, seven from Calgary, five from Edmonton, three from Nordegg, and two from Wetaskiwin, the Red Deer Golf and Country Club held their big annual event, the Central Alberta Golf Tournament, on Tuesday and Wednesday, and it was a big success in every way.

The Club were favored by almost perfect golfing weather, one or two light showers threatening rather than holding up the play. Visitors were enthusiastic in their praise of the course, some of them being amazed at the improvement in the turf in the last three years.

Mr. Sam Campbell, Edmonton, won in the qualifying round, and Mr. MacKenzie Grieve, of Innisfail, won the Central Alberta amateur championship by four holes. Mr. Campbell was second in this event, Mr. Halley Gatz third and Mr. H. C. Macdonald, of Edmonton, fourth.

Leadership in the second flight went to Mr. E. G. Johns, with Mr. E. M. Smith second, Mr. Babcock, Innisfail, third, and Mr. H. C. Munn fourth. Mr. A. T. Stephenson and Mr. Geo. Lindsay led in the third flight, followed by Mr. Percy Hill and Mr. Macdonald, both of Innisfail.

Mr. McWilliams, of Calgary, came out on top in the consolation event, with Mr. Hodge, of Innisfail, and Mr. Dan Smith and Mr. Dave Collison as runners-up.

The ladies' match, lowest medal score, was won by Miss Pennycook, of Calgary, with a score of 44. Mrs. Keith, of Calgary, Mrs. Stewart, of Edmonton, and Mrs. E. M. Smith came next.

The ladies' consolation event—match play—was left unfinished, with Miss Stephenson, who beat Miss Ebert, and Miss Greig, who beat Mrs. MacKenzie Grieve, to play off Thursday. Miss Stephenson won the final on Thursday afternoon, 3 and 1. Mr. Stewart was second with 225. Dr. Wagner, of Innisfail, won the approaching and putting competition with a score of four—one ball from 75 yards and one from 50. In this event three players were tied for second place at dark, with a score of five, and played it off by lamp-light after supper. Mr. Pete Grant, of Innisfail, was the final winner of second place.

Some splendid scores were made in the two-ball mixed foursome. Mrs. Greig and Mr. J. H. McClure were first, with a tally of 45. Next came Mrs. Long and Halley Gatz with 47; Mrs. E. Greig and Dave Collison with 48, and two couples with 49 each—Mrs. Keith and Mr. Kemp, both of Calgary, and Mrs. D. Smith, Red Deer, and Mr. Hodge, Innisfail.

Mr. J. Welsh, of Red Deer, was a little difficult about accepting the novice prize, for the best score turned in by a 1924 beginner, over 18 holes—as he said he had read an article on golf last year, so had doubts about the genuineness of his beginnership. His score was 54.

In the evening the members of the Club entertained their guests to a dinner at the club house, at which thirty or forty couples enjoyed a splendid time. The club house and verandah were very tastefully beautified with a number of Chinese lanterns. Mayor Collison kindly presented the prizes to the winners immediately before the dance.

"ENGLISHMEN ARE BETTER HUSBANDS THAN AMERICANS"

New York, August 21.—Englishmen make better husbands than Americans because they "treat their wives as companions and not as American husbands treat theirs, as dolls, spoiling them with presents, furs and jewels," says Mary Borden, the novelist, who has returned to the United States for a visit after an absence of 11 years. She is the wife of General B. L. Spears, who has been a member of parliament for three years. "English husbands don't nag," continued Mrs. Spears. "A wife to an Englishman is a pal and their life is more normal than over here. The English women do everything the men do and so they do not have so much time for bridge and clothes. Consequently they are not as good dressers as American women."

THE DEVELOPMENT OF POWER

The first world conference on power development was held this summer at Wembley in England. "Power" in this case was used not in the customary sense of military and political power, but in the sense of mechanical power, and mainly electrical power. The conference was an exceedingly interesting one, and it is to be hoped that it will have important practical results. Its object was to consider the resources of the world in respect of power development and the means by which these resources may be brought into use for the benefit of mankind generally without respect to nationality. It was made clear that the greatest development practicable is in respect of electricity derived from water power, which so far is only in its infancy. In spite of such great power plants as those depending on Niagara Falls, Canada with a present development of over three million horsepower from water stands fairly high among the countries of the world in respect of gross power, but quite low in respect of power actually developed as compared with potential development, for Canada's water power resources still unharnessed are vast. Switzerland stands first among the countries of the world in respect of the proportion of actual development to potential power, for 62% of her potential power is now actually in service. Great Britain stands very low on the list of countries, but if the present investigations of the possibilities of utilizing the tidal rise and fall in the Severn estuary is brought to a practical result, Britain may give a lead to the world in respect of harnessing the restless sea for the purpose of obtaining electrical power. An interesting suggestion was made in one paper as to the possibilities of developing power by means of small individual plants for use on farms, and the saving of time and labour by this means was shown to be very great. So far as we are concerned in Western Canada, the freeing of small streams in winter is a very serious difficulty in the way of establishing such small water power systems, but even so there are great possibilities in operating these lines, and no doubt in time they will be taken advantage of.

Another point brought out in the conference which is of interest to us in Canada was that it is to be hoped that the world in time will come to look for its great coal reserves. It was shown that even if water power is developed to the full and oil also made use of to the utmost, coal will remain the chief fuel of the world, and in Canada is the greatest coal supplies known to exist in the world. No doubt the method of coal will change. At the present time it is used with a wasteful inefficiency which is startling when it is really examined. There may be a time when not only the open fireplace but also the household furnace as methods of heating houses, will be looked on with as much pitying superiority as the primitive ox wagon is regarded by travellers in the finest express trains or aeroplanes. It looks as if the world is on the point of an awakening of great importance in respect of electrical development. It is just about 100 years ago now since steam really began to play an important part in the world, and in that 100 years it has revolutionized the whole world in respect of methods of travel, transport and machinery generally. It is quite possible that a similar great advance is about to take place with respect to electrical development. Both the Liberal and the Labour parties in Great Britain are putting great schemes of electrical development in the forefront of their political programmes as cures for industrial depression. If such an era of electrical development is about to open, it may have special interest for us in Red Deer because of the possibilities of the Red Deer River canyon scheme, as to which the Dominion Government has collected a considerable amount of information. Looking to the developments which have taken place in the United States, it is not at all a fantastic idea to believe that there may come a day in the not far distant future when Alberta is a great industrial as well as agricultural community with its centre in or about our own city.

CO-OPERATIVE MARKETING IN RED DEER

In our last issue we published a letter from a correspondent containing something in the nature of sceptical enquiries, not to say reflections on the work of the Central Alberta Farmers' Co-operative Marketing Association—to give it its full and formidable name. Since then we have obtained third hand information as to the Association. Looking to the developments which have taken place in the United States, it is not at all a fantastic idea to believe that there may come a day in the not far distant future when Alberta is a great industrial as well as agricultural community with its centre in or about our own city.

When the present manager, Mr. Ralph Patterson, took charge two and a half years ago, stock dealers in this district were paying the farmers $1.25 per 100 lbs. lower than the Calgary price on hogs. At the present time the farmers who deal with the Association get only 60c per 100 lbs. less than the Calgary price for hogs. That 60c covers not only all commission, salaries and operating expenses of the Association but also the shrinkage on the hogs between Red Deer and Calgary. Put in another way, it means that on every carload of hogs the farmers of this district save $104.00 as against the old handling costs when they dealt with the private dealers. For cattle the price here is only 50c per 100 lbs. less than the Calgary price.

The effect of this work is that the private dealers in this district cannot compete with the Association, which is now handling practically the whole output of hogs and cattle for this district. Various attempts have been made to undercut the Association in the district. They have all failed. A detailed instance of the Association's work may illustrate the position. At the beginning of last week the price of hogs in Calgary was $9.25 per 100 lbs. Allowing the 60c for handling and shrinkage as stated above, this made the Red Deer price $8.65 per 100 lbs., and on that basis the Association's price to farmers for sale. Between the time of delivery here and sale in Calgary the price rose to $9.50 per 100 lbs. The extra 25c was paid by the Association to the farmers, whereas if they had sold privately to the dealers, that 25c would have gone into the dealers' pockets.

Our correspondent suggested that there was grumbling among the farmers as to the expenses of paying for a large staff out of private sale price of their eggs. Here are some figures on this side of the question. The staff consists of the Manager, and two men for the outside work, with a bookkeeper and a stenographer for the inside work and two girls to grade or candle the eggs of the pool. That staff handled between July, 1923, and July, 1924, $350,000.00 worth of farm stock and produce. In the last two weeks it shipped 12 carloads of livestock and a person charged with the task of remembering that this turnover of $35,000.00 was made in a turn of 24 hours would find it a task of enormous proportions. It represents an even greater quantity of stock and produce than the figures might lead one to believe. As to the suggestion that a large staff is being maintained on the price of the eggs, all that need be said is that the only staffing expenses that have been charged to the egg sales are the wages of two grading employees, part of those of the bookkeeper and the actual cost of loading the eggs for shipment. The value of the eggs handled by the pool has been $15,000.00. The egg pool is closed every three months.

If any persons, farmers or otherwise, after considering these figures are still disposed to say that the Association or its staff are eating the bread of overpaid idleness at the expense of the innocent and confiding farmers, they had better get themselves up as dealers, and demonstrate by actual practice that they can make a living for themselves and get better prices for the farmers who deal with them. We wish to add one thing further of a personal nature. One of the best known, best educated and most respected farmers of this district was recently talking about the co-operative marketing movement. He was not very happy about it, his doubts being based on the inherently suspicious attitude of the average farmer towards his agents, and the unfortunate fact that in some cases that attitude was justified. He then spoke of the Red Deer Association (we really cannot repeat that appalling name) and said that it was proving a real success and benefit to the farmers. "There is a reason for that success," he said, "and that reason is that the farmers all trust Ralph Patterson, the Manager, and they are entirely right in doing so." We suggest that the grumblers had better take that incident to heart.

THE TREATY BETWEEN GREAT BRITAIN AND SOVIET RUSSIA

It was announced recently that after months of negotiations a treaty had been concluded between Great Britain and Soviet Russia. It appears to be highly unlikely to come into force, or to be carried out, even if it does come nominally into force. Its main provisions are an undertaking by the Russian Government to recognize the pre-war debts of Russia to British bondholders, and to allow a certain amount of compensation to British subjects whose property in Russia has been confiscated, while the British Government undertakes to try to obtain the authority of Parliament to guarantee a loan to Russia. On the surface the Treaty looks like a settlement of the main question at issue between the two countries, since Great Britain wanted Russia to recognize her pre-war debts, and Russia wanted a loan from Great Britain. The agreement, however, is more apparent than real, since Russia does not undertake to pay the debts she owes to British subjects but merely recognizes that she owes them, and is graciously consented to negotiate as to how much of them she may pay at some indefinite date hereafter. In view of the open and vaunted breaking of every promise and agreement made by her previously, this undertaking of Russia does not amount to anything, and is obviously intended merely as a bait by means of which to obtain a loan from Great Britain. The British Government's undertaking is equally illusory, for it is certain that the present Parliament will not give the necessary authority to the Labour Government to guarantee a loan, and there is no great likelihood of an immediate general election in Great Britain, which might give the Labour Party a real majority in Parliament.

It is not easy to understand why the British Labour Government ever entered into these negotiations with Russia. The leaders of the Soviet Government have been continuously and openly reviling the British Government, even while these negotiations have been going on. They have been preaching revolution and rebellion to the masses throughout Russia. The Labour Party has been hardy against concealment in propaganda against that Empire throughout the world. How could any friendly agreement with such a country be possible? The only to be imagined either that the British Labour Party felt themselves so bound by their statements about Russia made all over Great Britain before they came into power that they had to make some sort of show at negotiating, or on the other hand they may have believed that the Russian leaders were so corrupt and so insecure that they would make an agreement fairly contrary to their professed principles merely to get a little ready cash to embezzle for their own private profit.

Comment has rightly been made on the fact that for the first time in British history a treaty has been made not in the name of the King but in that of the British Government. The explanation of this has been given to avoid binding the Overseas Dominions of the Empire is not satisfactory. It could have been made perfectly clear if desired that the King was acting as the representative of Great Britain only, since it was his intention not to include the Dominions in the Treaty. The truth probably is that the Soviet Government wished to spread the impression abroad that they had insisted on ignoring the King in order to show that they were doing away with all the old principles of monarchy, and that the Labour Government was weak enough to agree to their wishes in the matter, whether knowingly or unknowingly it cannot be said, though the likelihood is that it was done with full realization. It seems to be an instance of weakness and insincerity, which like the whole Treaty itself will do the Labour Government much harm both at home and abroad. In respect to Russia the Labour Party have blundered from the very beginning of the Revolution and seem likely to go on blundering to the end.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The story broadcasted by a New York paper to the effect that a huge ship flying the British flag was anchored 12 miles off shore, acting as a floating bar, has been proven a lie without any foundation of fact. The ship of it is that many dailies in Canada copied the item. There should be a law punishing such statements appearing in papers punishable as a crime when in this case, it is apparent that they were printed and broadcasted in an effort to cause friction between nations.

The Calgary Albertan blames the poor percentage of pupils that passed in Calgary in the recent High School examinations on the School Board. We do not agree that the School Boards of so many points are to blame, and next week we will have an editorial dealing fully with the problem.

McKenzie King's platform collapsed suddenly in Montreal amid cries of horror, says a daily. We thought it had done so ages ago.

Probably what really caused the platform to go down was the statement by the Liberal candidate that the Premier was filling his office with credit and ability. No ordinary platform could remain silent in face of such a statement. In a great effort to cry out in protest the oak planks burst asunder.

The miners make out a good case for they should not accept less wages. Their spokesmen in a recent letter to the press states that their average wage is $7.50 a day. Due to mines shutting down, miners going on strike and other causes, they only work 150 days a year. Then they have to pay nearly half as much for coal, light and water as the citizen of Red Deer does. As a result during the 200 odd days they do not work they lose money every day.

It may not be possible to get a link for this fall, but now that the movement has been started we hope the matter will be gone into fully and systematically and every possible thing done to get a link at the earliest feasible moment. We think all the organizations will support the idea and that every person will be in sympathy with it. The problem will be to raise the money. And that is where the work of the committee must commence.

CROP REPORTS BETTER

Winnipeg Aug. 25, 1924.—Unsettled and scattered showers prevailed over the three provinces during the early part of the past week with heavier rainfall in Saskatchewan, according to the weekly crop report of the Agricultural Department, Can. Pac. Ry. Weather during the past four days has been moderately warm over the west, and if these ideal conditions prevail, the crop will be greatly enhanced. In all three provinces, the report states, there is decided improvement in all crops. Some apprehension was caused regarding damage by frost which was found to be unimportant in relation to the general situation. Livestock receipts at the various stockyards continue heavy. Many are unloading from drier areas where food is scarce, and prices are steady, the report says, with a demand for better class cattle. Pastures are much improved generally by rains of the past fortnight but winter feed will be scarce in some areas. Harvesters are arriving daily in large numbers from the east and will be augmented by services of hundreds of farmers from drier areas and the latter, it is expected, with their experience, will prove excellent help.

TEN YEARS AGO

From The News August 26th, 1914. The volunteers of "A" Squadron, 35th Central Alberta Horse, left for active service. The Red Deer contingent were Major J. C. Moore, Lieutenants L. F. Fazio and H. B. George, S.M. Payne, Corporals Clark, Richmond and Vince, and Privates Foster, Broughton, Hodges, Warlow, Hardy, Purdy, Wright, McGregor, Mallory, Surrie, Alexander, Day, Traub, Armstrong, Smith, Kelvill, McTavish, Herity, Smith, Beaton, Caswell, Payne, Forster, Bradley, Alcock, Abernethy, Brown, Evans, Norquay and Tudan. About 50 officers, N.C.O.s and men from the surrounding posts also left.

Namur had fallen and the Germans were overrunning all northern Belgium.

Rev. W. H. Fanning-Harris was the new rector of St. Luke's Church.

Hepworth & Trimble had leased the Laurentia Milk Co. plant and were back in the creamery business. No. 1 cream was 27c. and No. 2 24c.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

From The News, August 25th, 1909.

At a big public meeting, called by Mayor Beetsch, the telephone question was well threshed out. Resolutions were passed asking for a reduction in rates on the installation of a government system.

Lacombe had a $25,000 fire which destroyed the Royal Hotel and three other buildings.

Preliminaries for building the Methodist Church were complete and brick work commenced.

Miss Edna Miller, B.A., had been added to the school teaching staff.

Owing to increase of work, additions were made to the Red Deer C. P. R. staff.

OLIVER GETS A SEAT IN B.C.

Premier Oliver 1,124
Houston, Independent 786
Oliver's majority 338
Total vote polled 1,910

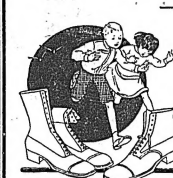

Nelson, B.C., August 25.—Premier John Oliver was elected Saturday to represent Nelson riding in the provincial legislature, his majority over Harry Houston, Independent, the nominee of the Citizens' party, being 338. Mr. Oliver polled 1,124 votes, while Mr. Houston received 786.

The by-election here was brought about by the resignation of Kenneth Campbell, Liberal, who gave up his seat to provide riding for the premier, who was defeated in Victoria in the general election of June 20.

The contest was a short and snappy one. The opposition forces, Conservative and Provincial, took part in the battle, the leaders of the two parties and their lieutenants supporting Mr. Oliver in an effort to defeat Mr. Houston. They claimed his defeat would mean his retirement to private life.

The result of Saturday's by-election will not change the standing of the parties in the house, Premier Oliver simply replacing Mr. Campbell as Liberal member for Nelson. The Liberal party will have 25 seats in the legislature and expectations of receiving the support of several Liberal and Independent members. The house membership is 43.

JARVIS-GOODLEY HARNESS Co.

BAGLEY STAMPEDE

There was a fair crowd at Bagley's ranch, east of the new bridge, on Tuesday and Wednesday, for the stampepe and midway carnival, organized and promoted by Mr. Jake Smith, in conjunction with Mr. Ray Bagley and Mr. Tom Lauder. The weather was good on the whole, although one or two showers on Wednesday morning dampened things a bit.

In the broncho-riding contests, although there was some speculation, the bucking and lots of fun, very few riders were thrown. There were about fifteen entries in this event. Mr. George McKeddie, of Ferrybank, won first money, riding "Parson Brown," "So long Bert," and "Strawberry." Casey Patterson, of Gadsby, came second, performing on "Widow-maker," "Blue Steel" and "Silverlute." "Spotted Pup," "Shimmy Shaker" and "Ringling" were allotted to Tan Jamieson, who took third place. These horses are well-known, and were all at the Calgary stampepe this year.

Casey Patterson won the calf roping contest, and McKeddie the wild cow milking event. The chuck-wagon race, always a popular event, caused lots of fun, the winners being Tom Lauder and Jim Bagley. One of the big attractions was the clever exhibition of steer-riding by Hyacinthe and Barle Jamieson, the latter an eleven-year-old boy. The "midway" included blanket wheels, sample wheels, various novelties, refreshment stands, etc. Gwendolyn Smith and Doris Cayley, the well-known Calgary "Tina Tots," furnished an excellent programme of music and dancing on both days, winning applause especially with their exhibition of songs and dances of all nations. Bone's orchestra provided the music for them, and also for the dance in the big barn that wound up each day's proceedings, about seventy couples being present.

On Thursday, August 14, the two Orange Lodges of Red Deer, Nos. 2864 and 1625, met in the Oddfellows hall on First St. South, to discuss amalgamation, which eventually took place, the new organization retaining the number of the old Lodge, 1625, the warrant of 2864 being handed in. Election of officers then took place with the following result:—

I.P.M.—G. M. England
W.M.—Master—R. E. Jones
D.M.—Jas. Shannon
Chaplain—H. W. Halliday
Secretary—R. C. Neal
Fin. Secretary—E. Bearehell
D. of C.—R. Birney
First Lecturer—A. Martin
Second Lecturer—Frank Stewart
Committee—Jan. Logan, F. E. Piper, J. V. Bettenson, W. Sucee, P. W. Phillips.

The election and installation of officers was conducted by Rt. Wor. Bro. England. L.O.L. 1625 meets on regular session on the first and third Tuesdays of each month, in the Orange Hall, Third St. North.

CORRESPONDENCE

To the Editor of The News:

Dear Sir:—I would esteem it a favor if you will insert the following in your paper.

I saw some gentlemen's names in the News and Advocate advising the support of the herd law; one of those gentlemen, to my knowledge, after the herd law came into force in his district, was very glad to let his cattle run at large, and has done so on and off for the last three years. So don't put too much dependence on what some people try to advise, but just use your own common sense when voting.

Some time ago I read in a Calgary paper an account of a creamery man being fined at Altz, which was a very different story to what I have read since in the News. Now, which is right and which is wrong? I would like to know as I see several gentlemen's names in support of the present cream-grading system, but who put the Government grade? Why the farmer who milks the cows, and I for one can trust Herporth & Martin to grade my cream just as well as the Government grade, and the Government grade does not help to make my cream grade any better, as it is solely up to me to take my cream in the best condition I can.

Yours truly,
EDWIN PLUMB

AN ULSTERMAN'S SACRIFICE

"If ye break faith with us who die / We shall not sleep, though poppies grow / In Flanders fields."

A touching story of an Ulsterman's sacrifice for King and Country—one of the gallant members of the Ulster Division who fell at the Ancre—was told by Mr. H. A. Gwynne, Editor of the "Morning Post," at the Ulster Association luncheon in London on May Day.

One of the reasons why he had never responded to the many cordial invitations that he had received to go to Ulster, said Mr. Gwynne, was that really he had not had the face. He thought it was a matter common to all human nature to be rather ashamed to meet a man on whom one had inflicted a hideous wound. He had never forgotten that the country to which he belonged had inflicted upon Ulster a wrong, which would ring down the ages, and which would always be a blot on the escutcheon of England. These were his opinions, and he had never changed them. During the war, when he was on a visit to the battlefields, it was his privilege to go over that bloody ground covered by the Ulster Division in the Ancre Battle. It was soon after the fight, and there were still many dead lying about. In one of the trenches, he found he saw the corpse of an Ulsterman, where evidently the man had crawled to die. Just below his dead Ulsterman's face was his Bible, which, perhaps, he had tried to open. He had one consolation when he saw this amidst the stench and dirt of the aftermath of battle. He said, "Well, there is one thing, England will never betray Ulster after this. The thought brought that Bible home, and he gave it as a present to a man than whom there was no man more worthy to receive it—Ulster's old leader, Lord Carson.

SOME RECIPES FOR ICE CREAM

(Dominion Department of Agriculture)
Only a few recipes are given as illustrations of the different types of ice cream, but a great variety of frozen desserts can be made by the use of different flavoring materials. In the making of ice creams, much scope is given for the skill and ingenuity of the housekeeper in attractive and palatable combinations of food materials.

The cream in each of the following recipes, except for that of the mousses, is to be creamed (18 to 25 per cent butterfat), but the rest of the cream can be reduced considerably by using half cream and half milk, or about two-thirds cream and one-third milk. Thinner cream, however, will not give as smooth an ice cream and it will probably require a longer time to freeze.

The amounts given in these recipes are for one quart of ice cream.

Table of Weights and Measures
2 cups = 1 pint
4 cups = 1 quart
2 cups granulated sugar = 1 pound
1 tablespoon (tbsp.) = 1/2 ounce
3 teaspoons (tsp.) = 1 tablespoon
Vanilla Ice Cream, No. 1
1 pint table cream, 2 tsp. vanilla, 1/2 cup sugar. Mix the ingredients, stir to dissolve the sugar, and freeze. Vanilla Ice Cream, No. 2 1 cup scalded milk, 1 egg yolk, 1 tsp. flour, 1/2 cup sugar, 1 cup cream, 1 tsp. vanilla. Mix the flour and sugar together, add the slightly beaten yolk and stir in the milk gradually. Cook over hot water about 15 minutes, strain and cool. Add the cream and flavoring. Freeze and serve.

Chocolate Ice Cream
1 pint cream, 1 tsp. vanilla, 1/2 cup of sugar, 1/2 cup of chocolate or cocoa; a few grains of salt. Put the chocolate or cocoa, half the sugar and a little water or milk in a pan. Heat over hot water and stir until a smooth syrup is formed. Cool the syrup and add with the remaining sugar to the cream. Add flavoring and freeze.

Strawberry Ice Cream
1 pint cream, 1/2 cup sugar, 1 tsp. vanilla, 1/2 cup crushed strawberries, 1/2 cup sugar. Crush the fruit and sprinkle with the 1/2 cup sugar. Mix the remaining ingredients and freeze. Add the crushed fruit when the mixture is nearly frozen.

Nut Ice Cream
1 pint cream, 1/2 cup sugar, 2 tsp. vanilla, 1/2 cup chopped nuts. Add the vanilla and sugar to the cream. Freeze. Then add the nuts and add the chopped nuts. Nuts used in chocolate or maple ice cream make a very palatable frozen product.

Macaroon Biscuits
1 pint cream, 1/2 cup sugar, 2 tsp. vanilla, 1 cup ground macaroons. Dry the macaroons in a hot oven. Roll or grind in a meat grinder and add to the ice cream when nearly frozen. Grapenut ice cream can be made by substituting grape-nuts for macaroons.

Lemon Milk Sherbet
1 pint whole milk or skim-milk, 1 cup sugar, 1/2 cup lemon juice, 2 egg whites (if desired). Whip the egg whites and mix with other ingredients, and freeze. If fresh fruit flavors are desired, add only one-third the amount of lemon juice and less sugar with sweeter fruits. Egg whites may be omitted, but the sherbet will not be as smooth in texture.

Milk, eggs and sugar will be the same in other sherbets, only the flavoring material will change. The following recipes are for the richer ice creams and are more expensive.

The cream used should not be thinned, and to get the best results should contain about 25 to 30 per cent butterfat. Table cream, however, will suffice.

Golden Parfait
1 pint cream, 1/2 cup sugar, 2 egg yolks, 2 tsp. vanilla. Add one-quarter of the cream to the egg yolks and beat a few moments over hot water, stirring constantly. Remove from the fire, cool, add the other ingredients and freeze. A nut parfait can be made by adding one-half cup of chopped nuts to the recipe. For fruit parfait, add three-quarters of a cup of crushed fruit.

Nassau Pudding
1 pint cream, 1/2 cup sugar, 2 tsp. vanilla, 2 egg yolks, 1/2 cup maraschino cherries, 1/2 cup chopped walnuts, 1/4 oz. candied fruits, 1 sliced chopped pineapple.

Add one-quarter of the cream to the egg yolks and beat a few moments over hot water, stirring constantly. Add sugar, remove from fire, cool and add vanilla. Grind and mix the fruit and nuts and add when the cream is nearly frozen. All puddings are made from the golden mixture with fruits and nuts added.

CARSTAIRS TO HAVE CURLING RINK READY FOR 1924-25 SEASON

Charlie Pearson, Dan Hays, Doc Christie, King Kelly and other noted exponents of Carstairs are commencing to learn the Scottish lingo that goes with the roarin' game, as from all reports Carstairs is to have a curling rink of its own for the 1924-25 season.

A Campbell, of Carstairs, but formerly of Didsbury, was in the city yesterday and announced that a meeting would be held at the Carstairs town in the course of two or three weeks to make preparations for the erection of a curling rink. The Carstairs don't intend to take a back seat to Didsbury, Olds, Innisfail, Red Deer and other northern towns any longer, so far as curling is concerned, said Mr. Campbell. The erection of a curling rink has been freely discussed, and it only now remains to get things going properly. And you can look forward to an entry of curling teams for the Calgary bonspiel next winter—Calgary Albertan.

STOCKER AND FEEDER SHOW

The Second Annual Alberta Stocker and Feeder Show and Sale will be held in the Alberta Stock Yards, Calgary, on October 20th and 21st.

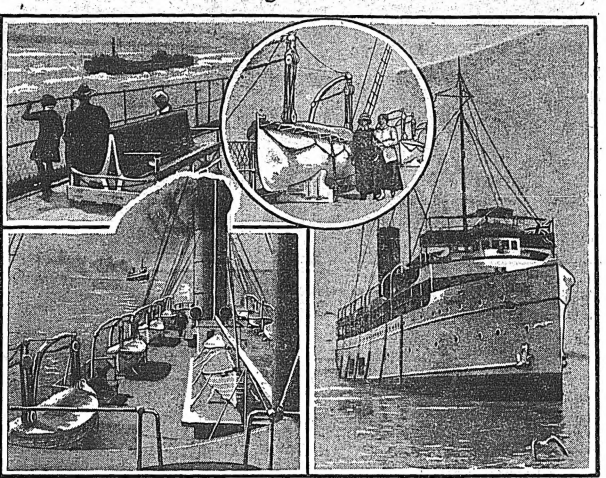

At last year's show approximately 1000 of the best stockers and feeders in the province were shown and sold through the ring. More than $6000.00 was offered at the last show, which amount has been increased to approximately $7000.00. There will be ten prizes for each carload of Shorthorns—two year old steers and yearlings. The first prize is $150.00 and the tenth prize is $10.00. The same prizes will be given for Hereford steers—two year old and yearlings, and carloads made up of steers of mixed breeds—both two year olds and yearlings. There will also be prizes for groups of five steers of each of these breeds—two year olds and yearlings. Six prizes will be offered for groups with a first prize of each of $50.00 and the sixth prize of $10.00. The recent rains have assured an abundance of feed in many districts, thus encouraging the executive of the show to wholeheartedly enter into its promotion. Any commission firm in the Alberta Stock Yards or the Stock Yards Manager will be glad to answer all inquiries in regard to any details not clear in this article.

Afloat on the Big Water of Hiawatha

Above are scenes of one of the Great Lakes steamships—the Assiniboia. The decks are as spacious as the cabins, and as clean as a confection.

No traveller has seen Canada until he has crossed the Great Lakes. Missing them he misses not only the opportunity of tracing the great, historic, important and beautiful waterway. He also misses an experience which cannot be enjoyed in any other part of the world—that of going to sea in the centre of a continent. Above all, he misses nearly two days of delightfully cool voyaging, which, if he be travelling between the eastern provinces and the prairie region, provides a welcome break in the long and dusty journey.

The Great Lakes of Canada form the most remarkable groups of lakes in the world—a group remarkable for its extent, its importance, its historic interest and its beauty. With the St. Lawrence river, they provide Canada, in summer, with a stupendous inland waterway by which it is possible to reach the heart of the Dominion from the Atlantic ocean, a waterway which, since the beginning, has been inestimably important to the country's development. This vast expanse is haunted by the ghosts of many of the most famous makers of North America. As for their beauty—the loveliness of these blue-fringed inland seas is something which one feels rightly belongs in dreams.

The Canadian Pacific Railway, through its Great Lakes Steamship Service, enables these anxious to enjoy all this to gratify their desire. Three fine steamships, the "Assiniboia," "Keweenaw" and "Manitoba," are maintained by the company in this service. Built on, and brought out from, the Clyde, they are miniature ocean liners.

Choice may be made of three sailings a week, two from Port McNicoll and one from Owen Sound, both on the Georgian Bay, a north-easterly off-shoot of Lake Huron. A train run of a few hours from Toronto by Canadian Pacific brings one to Port McNeill, within a few miles of the spot where Champlain and the Jesuits made their ill-fated treaty with the Hurons against the Iroquois three centuries ago.

The illusion of being at sea comes rapidly. Flocks of great gulls wheel overhead, fearlessly settling on rail and davit. The dock throbs beneath. Cool breezes drive out all unpleasant memories of heat, dust and smoke. Only two features of a life on the ocean wave are lacking—the tang of salt, for which the scent of pine is a worthy substitute and the unpleasant rolling, instead of which we have almost complete steadiness.

Throughout an afternoon one views an ever-changing panorama. Large islands bearing tiny houses, tiny by small islands, canoe on their shallow beaches, give glimpses of white tents seen through trees, and the smoke of campfires. Night comes softly, gradually enveloping this picturesque medley of water, land and sky. The moon rises, casting a restless trail of silver across the lake, a trail left by the canoes of Radisson, Marquette, Etienne Brule, Father Horgues, Hennepin, Mackenzie, Henry, a long procession of daring men, whose paddles still make music in the pages of Canada's thrilling history. Acquaintance begins in the dining-room and in the lounge, carried on in the verandah cafe, the lounge, the smoking rooms and on the decks, with card parties, music, dancing and yarning on every conceivable subject.

In the morning one finds that Lake Huron has been left behind. The ship is now in the St. Mary's River, whose green banks, with their succession of summer cottages and bungalows, are gilding by, and so on. Fast the ship, through the "Big Water of Hiawatha," out of sight of land to the Twin Cities—never-to-be-forgotten trip.

STARVING CHILDREN OF GREECE

A Western Canada Grain Campaign

Amongst the millions of war victims, none make sadder and more moving appeal than the multitude of women and children who are among the refugees evicted from Turkey under the Treaty of Lausanne. It is said that this human tragedy is the most terrible since the days of the Goths and Huns; that the condition of these unfortunate "Greeks" is the most extreme, and that the world has witnessed so much concentrated child suffering.

The Save the Children Fund, an all-British organization, is working under the League of Nations as an endeavor to feed some of these children, and thus to save countless human lives.

Canada is responding, with her sister Dominions, and now the Canadian West is being given an opportunity to join in this great work of alleviation by means of a Grain Campaign, as well as cash contributions.

Under this plan the farmer who has a crop is asked to donate a certain number of bushels of wheat when delivering at the elevator. All the Elevator Companies, Grain Growers' Organizations, United Farmers' Clubs, Women's Institutes, etc., are co-operating in the matter.

The Campaign is endorsed by many leaders, such as Premiers Bracken and Greenfield, Hon. T. A. Crerar, H.
W. Wood, J. B. Musselman, Geo. B.
Ward and others. A Western Campaign has been formed with C. W.
Gowley as Honorary Treasurer, with offices at 305 Scott Block, Winnipeg.

Frank Yeigh, of Toronto, the well known Canadian lecturer and lecturer, is in the West, assisting in the Campaign as Representing the Save the Children Fund Office in London, England.

This appeal is made to the people of Canada because of its urgent need.
Already, cash and food stuffs to the value of $75,000 have been contributed by Canada, but much more is required.

The fact that one bushel of wheat will keep a child alive for a month
makes this kind of life-saving work it is still "More blessed to give than to receive."

The Committee will be glad to have volunteer help, or otherwise in canvassing, addressed as above to whom explanatory literature will be sent on request.

Canada will never be the poorer for sharing her wealth, even to a slight degree, with these or any other hungry children.

The Manchester Guardian says, in a recent issue:
"The refugees in Greece are the last of the debris cast up by the war, that calls for foreign aid. There were originally about a million of them driven out of Turkey after the catastrophe of 1922, and by the help of the Greek Government, the League of Nations and friends in England, many of them total have been planted on the land or taken into some sort of employment.
The other half still remain in camps, quires support and to it have been added nearly 200,000 more refugees who are leaving the country under the scheme for the exchange of populations. Some day Greece will be the richer and better for this new material, but at present their maintenance is merely an added burden which the Greek Government and people are not able to bear."

But, the refugees form so large a proportion of the total population that the maintenance and settlement on the land must in any event be beyond the present means of the Greek people.
In a literal sense, every little will help,
for three cents a day suffices to keep a refugee.

He who gives quickly, gives twice.

BRITISH EMIGRANTS TO BE SENT OUT BY HOME GOVERNMENT

THREE THOUSAND FAMILIES
WILL BE SETTLED ON LAND
IN CANADA

Ottawa, August 21.—The settlement in Canada of 3,000 British families, to be selected by the Dominion, is provided for in a new immigration agreement which has been concluded between Hon. James J. Robb, minister of Immigration, and the British government. Under the agreement, the British government provides all money for equipment and sailing, which totals between four and a half and five million dollars, the settlers to repay
the amount expended over a period of five years.

The function of the immigration department of Canada consists in directing the settling of these immigrants when they arrive in the Dominion, and assisting them through the services of the field staff of the department.

Choice of Location
The settlers will be given choice of land in any part or province they select, but it is assumed that the major number will choose to settle in the northwest. Administration of the scheme over here will be in the

"Fruit-a-tives" Brings Rest
and Comfort

Amazing Results from Intensified
Fruit Juices

In these strenuous days, there is constant warfare waged against our nervous vitality.

The man and woman who is free of Nervousness and Sleeplessness, who is not more or less troubled with Indigestion, Rheumatism, Headaches, Neuralgia, Weariness and Loss of Vitality, Pain in the Back and Constipation, are very rare indeed.

This is why the Fruit-a-tives is a blessing to nervous, sleepless, un-strung men and women.

"Fruit-a-tives" is really the intensified juice of apples, prunes and other medicinal powers of these fruit juices
and a more active concentrated form.

"Fruit-a-tives" will always relieve Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Headaches, Stomach and Bowel troubles, by cleansing the system of waste—by rebuilding the nerve cells by means of pure, rich blood—by regulating the stomach, liver, bowels and skin—
by invigorating and re-vitalizing the whole system.

Try the fruit treatment for your hands of the immigration department.

Salings of the immigrants under the new agreement, which is regarded as an excellent one here, will begin some time next March.

The principle on which Mr. Robb proceeded in negotiating the agreement was that settlement of the British people was a matter for the British government. Naturally, Canada proposed to assist in the movement of settlers to the Dominion, but the responsibility must primarily be that of Great Britain.

Mr. Robb is expected in Canada about the end of the month, when fuller details as to negotiations which have been carried on with the overseas settlement board will be available to the government.

New Life for Canada
Montreal, August 21.—Several hundred thousand new settlers brought into Western Canada would bring new life into the whole Dominion and the attraction that would do the trick was a readjustment throughout the United States and Europe of the Peace River country, declared R. J.
Cromie, publisher of the Vancouver Sun, who is now in Montreal on one of his periodical business trips.
The millions of acres of rich, virgin soil, together with the romance of the Peace River, offer a wonderful attraction on which to base a great colonization campaign, he said. "Not only would the Peace River country benefit but the movement of settlers once started would help develop Saskatchewan and Manitoba."

TWO WETASKIWIN CITIZENS WIN MAG- AZINE PRIZES

In a recent contest held by Maclean's Magazine, the names of two residents of this city figured among the prize winners. Mrs. E. A. Holbrook was awarded first prize, and Mrs. E. C. Munro second prize.

Wetaskiwin was the only city in Canada to have two prize winners.
We are informed that there were numerous entries from all over Canada,
in fact, Maclean's, in their latest issue, refers to the entries as a deluge.

As to the nature of the competition, two artists, Dudley Gloyne Simmons and C. J. McCarthy illustrated a story entitled "The Road Runner."

These taking part in the competition were asked to state which article or illustrations they thought better, and to give their reasons in a letter of two hundred words.

Prizes include originals of the illustrations in Maclean's. We tender congratulations to our fellow citizens
on their success.—Wetaskiwin Times.

THOUSAND WILL REWRITE EXAMS.

Supplementary departmental examinations will be held at the University of Manitoba, September 10. It is expected that over 1,000 students will sit. Applications are pouring in to the department of education daily,
and it is impossible to give an accurate forecast of the number that will write the examinations, declared an official of the department, but the number should not exceed 1,100.

The results of Grades eight, nine and ten examinations are distinctly better this year than they were last, but Grades 11 and 12 are below those of the preceding year.

Conditioned students, requesting permission to rewrite the paper that they failed in, form the greater part of the applications now being received. The University matriculation examinations will take place at the same time.

SICK CHILDREN AT HOLIDAY CAMP DID NOT LACK FOOD

One Small Boy Developed a Marvellous Appetite

The following story relating to the last group at the Sick Children's holiday camp at Sylvan Lake appeared in the Calgary Alberta on Thursday:

Many humorous incidents at the Sick Children's holiday camp, held at Sylvan Lake this summer, were related Wednesday, when Mrs. B. E. Can-niff returned to the city, having spent the last few days of the group.

She remained a few days after the children returned, to close camp with Mrs. McCall, the camp mother.
"I wish you could have seen them eat," she began. One small boy had three helpings of soup, three helpings of vegetables and meat, five helpings of rice pudding, several slices of bread and butter with peanut butter on them and two glasses of milk." Mrs. Can-niff said that she could not have believed it possible for one small person to eat so much.

The children were always given four or five plates of porridge every morning. It seemed the rule at camp was that the children were allowed to eat everything which had been cooked for the meal.
There was always an ample supply cooked, she said.

"Sport" acted very badly at the last, according to Mrs. Canniff. It will be remembered that "Sport" is the black and brown collie who arrived
one morning at camp and continued through the summer to be the constant playfellow of the children.

When "Sport" sensed that something was on foot last Saturday morning which would interfere with his future happiness, he began to howl.
He commenced to howl. It was the day the last group left for home, and

"Sport" objected most lustily. All the way to the station he followed along, howling at intervals. When he arrived at the station, he marched boldly into the train, he tried to hide himself behind the small boys' legs. But luck was against "Sport" that morning; the trainman discovered him, and dragged out howling his protests.
Three times he had to be removed from the train, and each time he despair, he sat down on the station platform and howled pathetically. Later, when Mrs. Canniff returned with the camp mother, the same performance was enacted. Everyone who knew "Sport" at camp hoped he would find a good home before long.

Many of the campers in the last group were new boys who had never had a holiday before. One of the happiest events for them was the sports day arranged by the Sylvan Lake residents under the direction of Mr. Steele. The holiday campers were very proud of themselves, for although all the children at the lake were allowed to enter the competitions, prizes were again given for the best sand castles, and here, too, the holiday children came first. Every child at the camp received a prize of five or ten cents.

The story was told of one little boy who arrived at the station the morning the last group of boys left, for camp and announced that he was going home. He had on a new sweater, and in a cardboard box firmly wrapped under his arm were the rest of his belongings. For the first two years he had been sent to the holiday camp. This year he did not receive an invitation, but he went anyway.

Although the official reports of the past camp have not been finally completed, it was learned that about 170 children had enjoyed the outing this year. The past few days have been busy ones for the remaining officials who had to leave camp in order for next year. Blankets had to be packed and shipped back to Calgary. Dishes, silver and kitchen utensils had to be counted and packed also before camp
could be finally closed.

THE WHALE CROP
Victoria, B.C., August 21.—With the whaling season now at its height, the report is given out that, so far this year, 290 of the big sea mammals have been taken. Catches on the coast of British Columbia are reported to be about 100 whales. Island stations have handled 100 whales. Ross Harbor and Naden Harbor are the most important stations in the Queen Charlotte Islands.

WESTERN CANADA'S RIVER OF WHEAT

A NEVER-ENDING stream of gold, flowing from the farms of the Prairie Provinces to the consumers of bread stuffs in all parts of the civilized world, is represented by the movement of the grain harvest on the western markets. Beginning in August each year and in some years flowing continuously forward until August of the following year, this everlasting river of wheat is Western Canada's contribution to the feeding of the civilized world. In the movement of this crop from the country elevators and the platforms of the Prairie Provinces, the Canadian National Railway by year and day is playing a more important part.

Long before the western farmer has finished his seeding in the spring, preparations have been begun by the railways to move his crop. Cars must be ordered, for each year more equipment is needed for the movement of the grain; their cars, which have been in service,
must be brought into the repair yards and overhauled or rebuilt according to their needs, for the movement of grain is a watching night and day to see that grain cars are properly distributed and that once nothing is left that would hinder the movement forward shall be

ROD AND GUN FOR SEPTEMBER

The September issue of Rod and Gun in Canada will appeal to every sportsman. A canoe trip through the Chain Lakes from Dartmouth to Shubenacadie, by R. G. Urquhart, describes one of the most alluring trips that can be made anywhere in the Maritimes. The Four of Us, by B. Lonsdale, is the story of a perfect two weeks hunting trip, while Bonnycastle Dale gives an interesting account of how the Slim Wiggling Gel is taken in winter on the Atlantic Coast. Raymond Thompson's story of the frozen north, entitled The Fur Cache, is one with an unusually good plot. Mildred Low introduces the reader to a very interesting group of people. The Guides of Alaska, and Martin Hunter narrates in his usual vivid style in Circulating. All the regular departments are up to their usual standard of excellence and aid in providing good, all-round reading in this number of the magazine.

Rod and Gun in Canada is published by W. J. Taylor, Ltd., Woodstock, Ont.

The most impoverished business can be stimulated by advertising.

Here and There

A rich strike of silver lead ore has been made on Galena Hill, Yukon Territory. One vein is eighteen feet in width and shows 70 per cent lead with 30 to 50 ounces of silver. Several big mining interests are reported as active in this area.

The manufacture of wooden boxes is an important industry in British Columbia. There are 25 box-making plants in the province, representing a capital of between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000, about 1,200 employees and an annual payroll of not less than $1,250,000.

So popular has the bungalow camp system established by the Canadian Pacific Railway become that it will be necessary to extend it greatly. This statement was made recently by C. B. Foster, Passenger Traffic Manager, after a visit to the hotels and camps in the Rockies.

That the farmers of Western Canada are now giving increasing attention to the improvement of their home surroundings is shown by the fact that they have not only planted 5,200,000 trees distributed by two government forestry stations this year but have also purchased large quantities from private nurseries.

Summer fishing commenced on Lesser Slave Lake on July 28th and will close September 30th. Operators have been limited to a catch of 1,500,000 pounds of whitefish but no limit has been placed on pickerel and jack fish, as the market for these varieties is restricted. Four fish companies are operating this summer and will ship to Chicago via Dominion Express.

Imports of Canadian produce and manufacture into Australia received during the year ended June 30th, 1932, amounted in value to $5,044,253, an expansion of $1,899,803 over the previous year. It is the largest volume of trade yet recorded between Canada and Australia. The greatest increase was in motor chassis though a good volume of trade was also done in rubber goods, boots and shoes.

What is claimed to be a world's record for relaying rails was established by a crew of men on the Canadian Pacific Railway, in the New Brunswick district recently. In two days the 220 men in the gang tore up 29.7 miles of old 85-lb. rails and replaced them with new. All available data states that the former Canadian record was 11.7 miles, which exceeds that established in the United States.

The "Empress of Scotland," one of the Canadian Pacific Railway's finest liners, docked at Quebec on August 8th with a passenger list crowded with important names. Among them were Lord Beaverbrook, the Canadian financier, Edward W. Bok, editor of the Ladies' Home Journal, whose offer of a fifty thousand dollar prize for a best plan tending to maintain world peace created so much interest recently, and E. W. Beatty, K.C., Chairman and President, Canadian Pacific Railway. Mr. Beatty had just concluded a most successful tour of Europe with the object of attracting capital and immigrants to Canada. He spoke with great enthusiasm of the prospects of obtaining both and especially anticipated an influx of fine new Canadians from Denmark.

Miss Daisy Gaetz

Teacher of piano, voice, rudiments and harmony.

Miss Gaetz passed the Toronto Conservatory piano A.T.C.M. (teachers) exam in 1920, and has taught pianoforte successfully since that time. After graduating in pianoforte Miss Gaetz studied the Science of Voice-production with Mrs. Lucy A. Simons and passed the A.T.C.M. (teacher's) singing exam.

Miss Gaetz has been particularly successful in teaching theoretical subjects. During the past four years all her theory pupils have been successful in their exams, and with only two exceptions they have passed with Honors or First Class Honors.

Pupils are requested to apply for reservation of time before September First.

The Miners' Strike in District 18 has lasted so long and the demand during the summer has been so poor that it will take the entire capacity of every domestic mine in Alberta from now on—including mines now on strike and no settlement even arranged—to take care of the normal demand for the rest of this year. This is not "scare stuff" but is based on figures obtained from the Mines Branch as to total output and average yearly requirements.

Watch Repairing

If your watch is a good one—or valuable one—or valuable for some sentimental association—you should be sure that the man who repairs it is a skilled workman.

A watch that's worth repairing at all is worth repairing well. We wouldn't do it otherwise—even if you were "not particular."

And it can be repaired here if it is repairable at all.
